The Mitsubishi Zero is
one of the great
legendary fighter
aircraft ever to have

graced the skies.

Symbolic of the might of Imperial Japan, she represented a peak of developmental prowess in the field of aviation during the early years of the Second World War.

Engineered with manoeuvrability in mind, this light-weight, stripped-back aircraft had a performance that left her

opponents totally outclassed. The dogfights she engaged in with the Chinese, British,
Dutch and American
warplanes in the 1941-42 period are
the stuff of aviation
legend. The Zero fighter had four major assets - agility, long-range, experienced and war-blooded pilots and, most importantly of all, a total inability of the Allies, particularly in the Pacific Theatre of operations, to believe that Japan could produce such a machine. Despite a whole series of eyewitness reports from China, where she had swept the skies clean of all opposition, western

minds were closed,
and remained so until
the brutal facts
imposed themselves
on their biased
mindsets. All aircraft designs are a compromise of course, and the Zero
had faults as well as strengths, two of which were to finally doom her; one was her lack of armour protection and the other was the inability of the Japanese to match the overwhelming production strength and innovation of Allied aircraft construction. Even so, she remained a potent threat until the end of the war, not least in her final role, that of a Kamikaze

aircraft, in which she
